Dancing to Connect

Dancing to Connect (DTC), an award-winning initiative created by the Battery Dance Company of New York City, engages young adults in creativity and team-building through the art form of modern dance. Students of all abilities work together with Battery Dance Company's teaching artists (who are also world-class performers) in a creative, performance-based project. Battery Dance Company's DTC program has been implemented in over 40 countries throughout the world.
